THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

NO COMPARISONS

How many times have we read or heard about someone who’s gotten into trouble—maybe even fired from a job—because of a brush with the law? While our “Christian” minds tell us to be sorry and even pray for the person, a little voice inside our heads may also be saying, “I’m glad I would never do anything like that.”

And perhaps we wouldn’t. But are there some things we do that are still not pleasing in God’s eyes? Today’s readings caution us not to look so intently at someone else’s wrongdoing that we overlook our own weaknesses and shortcomings. When we measure ourselves against the worst people we can think of, we come out looking pretty good. There is a danger, however, in using someone else’s behavior as a way of reflecting our own goodness.

All Souls Day -
We will once again be remembering in prayer, on All Souls Day, our loved ones who have passed away. Envelopes for this purpose may be found at the entrances of the Church and in the pews beginning Oct. 26th. The envelopes will be placed on the Altar during this Mass.

We believe that we continue to share a relationship with those who have died. When we pray for the souls of the faithful departed, we are praying for those whose souls are journeying through purgatory, being prepared for eternal life in heaven. We believe that our prayers for them will help to speed their journey to eternal life with God in heaven.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,
On Sunday, October 23, 2016, Catholics around the world celebrate World Mission Sunday, with the theme being “Mercy Changes the World.” Pope Francis invites the entire Church to support various young mission dioceses in Africa, Asia, the Pacific Islands, as well as parts of Latin America and Europe. The priests, religious and lay leaders of these dioceses serve some of the poorest and most underdeveloped regions in the world.

Supporting these struggling Dioceses with your prayers and yes, bountiful offerings, are indeed ways to fulfill the objective Pope Francis has given to all. The celebration of World Mission Sunday unites us all with our brothers and sisters in need. The funds collected will aid the poor in many ways including: the formation of catechists and lay leaders, providing emergency aid, education, building of churches/chapels as well as the construction of health facilities and much more.

In the Diocese of Venice, the World Mission Sunday Collection will take place the weekend of October 22 – 23, 2016. Along with your prayers, please be generous in aiding the Missions with your collection gift for the Society of the Propagation of the Faith.

Thank you for your kindness! I take this opportunity to extend to each of you the assurances of my continued consideration, as well as my prayers for you and your family.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
+Frank J. Dewane
Bishop of the Diocese of Venice in Florida

MONTHS 7 & 8—Developing Baby

You are in the home stretch with your spiritually adopted baby. He/she is completely formed, and has been since 8 weeks. All he/she is doing now is gaining weight -- and making his/her mother uncomfortable with his/her size. But she is not worried. In a short time, her baby will be born. Your baby’s mother appreciated the prayers you have said for her and her baby throughout the pregnancy. It has not been easy, but your prayers have given her the grace she needed to bring her baby to term.
The Rosary and the Popes

No form of extra-liturgical devotion to Mary is more widely practiced among the faithful or found by them to be more satisfyingly complete than the Rosary, which has come to be regarded as the very badge of Catholic piety. No form of extra-liturgical devotion to Mary has been recommended more warmly or frequently by the Popes. With perhaps two exceptions, all the Sovereign Pontiffs from Sixtus IV in 1478 down to John XXIII, especially Leo XIII (in 23 documents, ten of them encyclicals entirely on the Rosary) and his successors, have extolled this form of prayer, which has been the favorite, moreover, of such saints as Teresa of Avila, Francis de Sales, Louis de Montfort, Alphonsus Liguori, Don Bosco, Bernadette, and many more.

The authentic Rosary is a happy combination of vocal and mental prayer, each of which is essential to the devotion. It is incorrect to say that meditation is “the very essence of the Rosary devotion,” for vocal recitation of the prayers is also of the essence. Meditation is, of course, the nobler element, the “soul,” while vocal prayer is the “body” of the devotion. The Rosary, Pope Leo XIII declared, “is composed of two parts, distinct but inseparable — the meditation on the mysteries and the recitation of the prayers. It is thus a kind of prayer that requires not only some raising of the soul to God, but also a particular and explicit attention” (Incunda semper). Hence, as Pope Pius XI stated, they err “who consider this devotion merely a boresome formula repeated with monotonous and singsong intonation” (Ingravescentibus malis). Moreover, as Pius XI put it, “both piety and love, although always breathing forth the same words, do not, however, repeat the same thing, but they fervently express something ever new which the loving heart always sends forth.” And finally, in the words of Pius XII, “the recitation of identical formulas, repeated so many times, rather than rendering the prayer sterile and boring, has on the contrary the admirable quality of infusing confidence in him who prays, and brings to bear a gentle compulsion on the motherly heart of Mary (Ingravescentibus malis). — Mariology, Juniper B. Carol, O.F.M.

Pope Benedict XVI in an address at the Basilica of St. Mary Major where he prayed the rosary with the faithful said: Today, together we confirm that the Holy Rosary is not a pious practice banished to the past, like prayers of other times thought of with nostalgia. Instead, the Rosary is experiencing a new Springtime. Without a doubt, this is one of the most eloquent signs of love that the young generation nourish for Jesus and his Mother, Mary. In the current world, so dispersive, this prayer helps to put Christ at the centre, as the Virgin did, who meditated within all that was said about her Son, and also what he did and said. When reciting the Rosary, the important and meaningful moments of salvation history are relived. The various steps of Christ’s mission are traced. With Mary the heart is oriented toward the mystery of Jesus. Christ is put at the centre of our life, of our time, of our city, through the contemplation and meditation of his holy mysteries of joy, light, sorrow and glory. May Mary help us to welcome within ourselves the grace emanating from these mysteries, so that through us we can “water” society, beginning with our daily relationships, and purifying them from so many negative forces, thus opening them to the newness of God. The Rosary, when it is prayed in an authentic way, not mechanical and superficial but profoundly, it brings, in fact, peace and reconciliation. It contains within itself the healing power of the Most Holy Name of Jesus, invoked with faith and love at the centre of each “Hail Mary”.

Why do Catholics Make the Sign of the Cross?

The first prayer that most parents teach their children is the Sign of the Cross. This ancient gestural prayer customarily begins and ends our formal prayer, from grace before meals to the Church’s principal prayer, the Mass. According to the 1911 edition of the Catholic Encyclopedia, the ancient origin of the Sign of the Cross is unclear, but its form has evolved over time: It’s now a large gesture rather than a small one; uses three fingers instead of two, and goes from left-to-right instead of right-to-left. What has remained largely unchanged is the meaning of the gesture. As followers of Jesus Christ, we are united to his passion death and resurrection. We take the sign of his cross on to our own bodies. This central symbol of our faith becomes the beginning point of our prayer, and its conclusion. It’s how we place boundaries in time and space that say, “Now I’m praying; this time belongs to God.” Our actual words, “In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit,” reflect this delineation of sacred time and space, and recognize that all we are and all we do is connected to the mystery of the Trinity.

In addition to beginning and ending prayer, the Sign of the Cross is used at other times as well, for example, when receiving a formal blessing, receiving absolution, and entering a church and blessing oneself with holy water. Generally speaking, it’s appropriate to make the Sign of the Cross any time you hear the words, “In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.”
Voting in Light of the Common Good

As Election Day draws nearer and we continue to consider those we will choose to lead us locally and nationally, reflect on the fundamentals and virtues of the Church’s teaching of the Common Good. Examine the platforms and ideals of your potential leaders in light of the Church’s teaching of the Common Good.

What does the Church say about the Common Good?

“Every day human interdependence grows more tightly drawn and spreads by degrees over the whole world. As a result the common good, that is, the sum of those conditions of social life which allow social groups and their individual members relatively thorough and ready access to their own fulfillment, today takes on an increasingly universal complexion and consequently involves rights and duties with respect to the whole human race. Every social group must take account of the needs and legitimate aspiration of other groups, and even of the general welfare of the entire human family.” From Gaudium et Spes, #26

Three Essential Elements of the Common Good

1. Respect for the human person— made in God’s image.
2. Social well-being of the group and the development of the group.

The Common Good...

- Is a concern for the welfare of the whole.
- Recognizes the human person as sacred and social.
- Is built upon the principle of human dignity and the equality of all people.
- Recognizes that human beings realize their dignity & achieve their destiny in particular communities, not isolation.
- Requires a foundation of basic rights which are minimum standards for life in society.
- Is personal and communal.
- Must be active at every level of life.
- Is directed by a moral concern that each person must participate and share in the benefits of social advances.
- Is needed to avoid the harmful forces of coercion, domination or exploitation.
- Is needed for the overall just functioning of a society.
- Recognizes that governments and political institutions are necessary and have active responsibility for achieving the common good.
- Must be an increasingly transnational—or global reality encompassing the entire human family.
- Is not utilitarian in nature: it’s not “the greatest good for the greatest number,” because this can allow for the exclusion of individuals or even segments of society.

For the people of the United States, that we may be united in building a society in which everyone can live with dignity and hope, we pray to the Lord...

The common good is not solely a Catholic value—the U.S. Constitution begins, “We the people,” reminding us that concern for the common good is also a founding principle of our nation.

“The commitment of Christians in the world has found a variety of expressions in the course of the past 2000 years. One such expression has been Christian involvement in political life. It is commendable that in today’s democratic societies, in a climate of true freedom, everyone is made a participant in directing the body politic.

Such societies call for new and fuller forms of participation in public life by Christian and non-Christian citizens alike. Indeed, all can contribute, by voting in elections for lawmakers and government officials, and in other ways as well, to the development of political solutions and legislative choices which, in their opinion, will benefit the common good.

The life of a democracy could not be productive without the active, responsible and generous involvement of everyone, albeit in a diversity and complementarity of forms, levels, tasks, and responsibilities.”
