Third Sunday of Ordinary Time

THE DEMANDS OF DISCIPLESHIP
Today we encounter readings that already have a Lenten feel about them. Nineveh undergoes a forty-day fast, the psalmist reminds us that God alone can show sinners the way, Paul shows us how fleeting the things and events of this world are, and Jesus cries out “Repent!” before he calls his new followers. “Come after me,” Jesus says, but if we are to truly live out the commands and demands of our discipleship through baptism, we must first know our need for conversion, our repentance, our need to believe in the gospel fully. Today’s Gospel opens with the stark reminder of what befell John the Baptist for completely living out his vocation as the herald of Christ and the gospel: he was arrested, imprisoned, and martyred. Though few of us will experience consequences that extreme, we must all be ready to risk some sort of rejection as, heeding the call of Jesus, we live out the kingdom of God at hand, repent of our sins, and believe in the good news of salvation.

Letter from Bishop Dewane

Collection for the Church in Latin America

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,
The Faithful of the Church in Latin America face many challenges in living out the Faith; yet the light always shines through and hope arises. For the past 50 years, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops has helped 25 countries in Central and South America, as well as the Caribbean, confront challenges and facilitate new programs in the sharing of the Faith.
The needs in this region of the world are great and can seem insurmountable. The distance in rural areas and deteriorated roads makes attending Mass regularly difficult. Language barriers and lack of resources make catechetical materials problematic to produce. The absence of church buildings, priests, and lay catechists, hampers spreading the message of the Gospel. Your support will allow for pastoral agents to receive training so that they may bring the good news of the Gospel to all our Brothers and Sisters in this part of the world.

The Collection for the Church in Latin America will take place in the Diocese of Venice the weekend of January 20 and 21, 2018.

Please be generous and take this opportunity to share your faith with families in Latin America and the Caribbean. Your support truly makes a difference! Thank you!!

I take this opportunity to extend to you the assurances of my prayers for you and your family, and in-turn, ask for your prayers. Have a Blessed and Healthy New Year!!

Sincerely yours in Christ,
+ Frank J. Dewane
Bishop of Diocese of Venice in Florida
Background on the Gospel Reading

As we learn at the beginning of today’s Gospel reading, Jesus preaches the Kingdom of God in continuity with the preaching of John the Baptist. Like John the Baptist, Jesus’ pronouncement of the kingdom is a call to repentance. Yet Jesus’ preaching is greater than John’s. Jesus begins the time of fulfillment; the Kingdom of God is already here. This will be demonstrated again and again, both in Jesus’ words and in the actions that follow. Jesus’ healings and forgiveness of sins are signs of the Kingdom of God that He announces in his teaching.

In contrast to last week’s Gospel, in Mark’s Gospel Jesus takes the initiative in calling His first disciples. As mentioned last week, it was more typical of first-century rabbinical schools for students to seek out rabbis, asking to be their disciples. In Mark’s Gospel, Jesus breaks with this tradition and invites His disciples to learn from Him. Jesus is said to have first called four fishermen—Simon, Andrew, James, and John. Jesus promises that He will make them “fishers of men.” Mark does not report Jesus’ words of invitation to them, but he does report that they left their fishing immediately.

Mark’s Gospel is told with a great sense of urgency and immediacy. Jesus is a person of action, and events occur in rapid succession. We see this in today’s Gospel. Time is of the essence; the fishermen immediately put aside their livelihood to become Jesus’ disciples. The Kingdom of God is here and now.

The time of fulfillment is at hand. How might our lives be different if we more fully shared this sense of the immediacy of God’s kingdom?

February book: “Ecology of a Cracker Childhood” by Janisse Ray

“A gutsy, wholly original memoir of ragged grace and raw beauty.” —Kirkus Reviews

Janisse Ray crafted a memoir that has inspired thousands to embrace their beginnings, no matter how humble, and fight for the places they love. Ray grew up in a junkyard along U.S. Highway 1, hidden from Florida-bound travelers by hulks of old cars. In language at once colloquial, elegiac, and informative, Ray redeems her home and her people, while also cataloging the source of her childhood hope: the endemic longleaf pine forests, where orchids grow amid wiregrass at the feet of widely spaced, lofty trees. Today, the forests exist in fragments, cherished and threatened, and the South of her youth is gradually being overtaken by golf courses and suburban development.

The Role of Islam in Salvation History

Tuesday, February 6th at 7:00pm
St. Raphael Catholic Church
2514 Lee Blvd., Lehigh Acres

Among all of the major world religions, Islam is unique in that it came after the coming of Christ, and has very specific things to say about Judaism and Christianity. And, of course, it has recently reemerged as a major force influencing countries, governments, and societies around the world.

What sense can we make of all this?

What about all of the other religions, which contradict Christianity?

What role may these religions, that contradict Christianity, play in Divine Providence and the economy of salvation?

Roy Schoeman, a Jewish convert to the Catholic Church will directly address this difficult issue and give us his insights and conclusions.
